

Lost Moccasin

One moccasin lost among many; many never coming home again

Many worries, many tears, plenty of heartache and pain

Sleepless nights go on forever wondering about the
lost moccasin

Only the darkness holds all the answers of where to begin

Many prayers hoping that the almighty Creator holds her in His grace

And one day leads her home or leads her to Mother Earth's embrace